

Office Refurbishment with Product Display

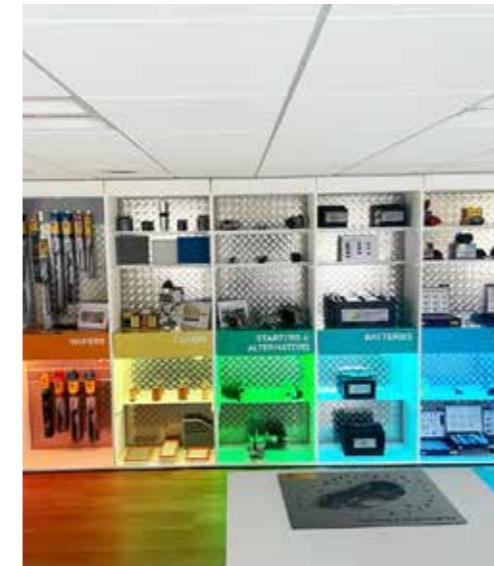

Hawkins Projects Ltd were awarded the exciting contract to redesign the new customer centre for Forvia.

Our internal design team worked closely with the client to create a detailed brief for the project, allowing our designers to meet our client's requirements and deliver the necessary drawings and designs for this new functional space.

The project involved demolishing a small area and creating a new customer centre to showcase Forvia's vast range of high-tech products.

Our internal design office also detailed and drew all manifestations required for the customer centre refurbishment.

The refurbishment project was completed within eight weeks.
